Broad alternative energy ETFs, which include solar energy along with other sub-sector exposures, have been moving. Year-to-date, the Market Vectors Global Alternative Energy ETF (NYSEArca: GEX) increased 13.9%, PowerShares Global Clean Energy Portfolio (NYSEArca: PBD) jumped 15.6% and iShares Global Clean Energy ETF (NYSEArca: ICLN) surged 30.2%.

In 2013, the world added 143 gigawatts of renewable electricity capacity, compared to the 141 gigawatts of new capacity from plants that burn fossil fuels, and the shift into clean energy is accelerating, reports Tom Randall for Bloomberg.
